PREFACE

THE present work is the third main volume of the AMERICAN CATALOG series of the twentieth century.

The period of the first main volume covered the five years from January 1, 1900, to January 1, 1905, including only those books of 1905 imprint which were actually published within 1904. The period of the second main volume covered the three years from January 1, 1905, through December 31, 1907, inclusive. It was originally purposed, as stated in the preface to the first volume, to make the second period inclusive of the five years from January 1, 1905, to January 1, 1910, or possibly through the end of 1910, the latter modification with the intent of making five-year periods beginning with the calendar year 1911, and to print an intermediary three-year cumulation, not in permanent binding but to be superseded later. It proved, however, that the cumulative catalog for the three years—1905, 1906, 1907—would be practically of the same bulk as for the five years preceding, and it was therefore decided to make the three-year volume the permanent form of the AMERICAN CATALOG, covering these three calendar years. This is now succeeded by the present volume covering the three calendar years 1908, 1909, 1910. The change of plan is sufficiently justified by the fact that the first five year volume contained 1209 pages in its main alphabet, the second three year volume 1104 pages, and this third three year volume 1540 pages, or a fourth more than either of its predecessors. This change offers a volume of more convenient size and the plan has other advantages.

The present catalog embraces reprints, importations in editions and the law reports of United States and State courts, but it does not attempt to include local directories, periodicals, musical scores, books chiefly blank, unbound maps, tracts and other low-priced pamphlets. Nor does it now cover Government and State publications and publications of societies and institutions (except those publishing through the book trade), for the most part now covered by special bibliographies, with the exception of some works of general rather than of official bearing.

The material of this volume is directly that of The Publishers' Weekly monthly and cumulated Reference Lists as preserved by the linotype system, edited into a consistent alphabet and filled out with additional titles not duly recorded in the year of publication. Its typographical scheme embraces: author entries, designated by Clarendon full-face type, which type is used also for the first word of anonymous books; title entries in Roman lower case; subject entries, designated by SMALL CAPS; and series entries, designated by italics. Thus the advantages of the dictionary catalog, or one-place method, are combined with the advantages of separate alphabets of each class of entry. While the subject entries are thus included in the general alphabet, in place of the second alphabet of the old system, the arrangement of subject entries is, as in the previous system, by specific subjects, not by general classes. Each book is placed under the particular subject of which it treats, and entries under general headings are confined to books of a general rather than of a specific character. As the endeavor has been not to repeat entries, cognate subjects should be looked up in searching for books on a given subject, in which the Index to Subject Headings issued by the American Library Association will be found a useful help. As far as practicable the indications given by words in the title of a book have been followed in the assignment to subject headings.

The Directory of Publishers, whose books have been recorded in the present volume, includes 5184 names as against 3876 names in the 1900-1905 five-year volume, and 3789 in the 1905-1907 three-year volume. It remains true that nine-tenths of American publishing is done by less than one-tenth of this number. The imprint is the name of publisher given on the title-page of the book, changes of firm name or of publisher being indicated, as far as information was obtained in the list of publishers. Of course, many entries of publishers indicate merely printers or designate authors publishing their own books only.

It was intended to continue the system of supplementing this main volume, as in the case of the first and second main volumes, with the full title and descriptive note of each work, as preserved in linotype slugs, and printed in a separate alphabet each year and combined into a supplementary second volume for each period. This plan has been reluctantly abandoned, as the support from libraries and the book trade for this volume did not return its cost and justify its continuance.

THE AMERICAN CATALOG

1908-1910

By Author, Title, Subject and Series

NOTE

In this catalog the books are recorded under (1) author, in Clarendon type; anonymous books having Clarendon type for the first word; (2) title in Roman; (3) subject-heading in SMALL CAPS; (4) name of series in Italics. The figures in parentheses are not the imprint date, but refer to the date of "The Publishers' Weekly" in which full title entry will be found and not to the day of publication, for which information should be sought in the full title entry thus indicated. When month only is given in parentheses this is the original entry and title will not be found in Weekly Record. Where not specified, the binding is cloth.

Up to April 16th, 1910, the prices of net books published under the rules of the American Publishers' Association are preceded in this list by a double asterisk , and the word net follows the price. The prices of fiction (not net) published under the rules are preceded by a dagger †. The prices of net books not covered by the rules, whether published by members of the American Publishers' Association or not, are preceded by a single asterisk, and the word net follows the price. Since April 16th, 1910, all net books are so indicated, but no further distinction has been made.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederick; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tt. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Ff. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights. In cases where the record is not made directly from the books, the designations 4to, 8vo, 12mo, etc., are used.

Prices are added except when not supplied by publisher or obtainable only on specific request.

Months are abbreviated as follows: Ja January; F February; Mr March; Ap April; My May; Je June; Jl July; Ag August; S September; O October; N November; D December.

The full name of publisher and address will be found in the Directory of American Publishers, pp. vii-lxxxvi.

The South: shall it ever become so far civilized as to be fit for a Republican form of government? or shall we for another seventy-five years be subject to its vicious legislation, its turbulence and its wars? Answer: the Dingley tariff, causing the development of the vast mineral and other resources of the southern states, through work and wages, nearer and greater markets, wealth and power, is solving this supreme national problem; addressed in criticism of his economic views and recommendations to President Roosevelt.
